

Edward A. Brown

Partner

Ed Brown has significant experience in various aspects of patent law, including the preparation and prosecution of patent applications, and the preparation of legal opinions. In addition, Ed has experience in materials science and mechanical technologies.

Ed's particular technical experience covers a wide range of technologies, including metallurgy, semiconductor fabrication, semiconductor devices, xerography, inorganic chemistry, and various mechanical technologies.

Before joining Prass LLP, Ed worked as an attorney with the law firms of Burns, Doane, Swecker and Mathis, and Buchanan, Ingersoll and Rooney. At these firms, Ed focused his practice on the preparation and procurement of domestic and foreign patent applications. Ed also worked as an attorney at the law firms of Oliff and Berridge and Sheldon & Mak.

Prior to going into private practice, Ed worked as a Patent Examiner at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, and at the McGraw-Edison Technical Center.
